

Chris Culbreth

- Licensed Arabian Judge since 1987
- Judged all levels of competition, including international

Chris Culbreth, together with his wife Michele, owns and operates Culbreth Equine LLC in Scottsdale, Arizona. With Michele's continued and unwavering support, Chris has been a respected and influential figure in the Arabian horse industry since the early 1980's, earning a reputation for integrity, precision, and a deep respect for the breed.

As a licensed Arabian horse judge, Culbreth has officiated at premier national and international events, bringing decades of experience and an unwavering commitment to fairness and consistency in both halter and performance divisions. His judging philosophy emphasizes harmony between beauty and athleticism—the essence of the Arabian horse.

Throughout his career, he has balanced his judging responsibilities with active involvement in showing, breeding, and leadership within the Arabian community. His insight into both the exhibitor's perspective and the breed standard has made him a trusted authority among peers and competitors alike.

Notable officiating assignments include four U.S. Nationals, five Canadian Nationals, the Namibian Nationals, Brazilian Nationals, National Show Horse Finals, and the recently completed Morgan Grand National & World Championships.

Culbreth's leadership within the Arabian Horse Association (AHA) includes serving as Chairman of the Judges & Stewards Education & Evaluation Commission, Chairman of the Internal Audit Committee, Breeders Sweepstakes Commission Chairman and Region 7 Director.

With over four decades of service, Chris Culbreth continues to exemplify professionalism, dedication, and passion for the Arabian horse.
