Shelby, Age 13

My favorite season to ride in is spring, when the mare's are foaling, the cows calving, the chicks hatching, the bunnies kindling, the flowers blooming, the outside arena opening, this is my favorite season, the season that brings all the many horses into the ferocious spring fever accompanied with a buck and a kick making you a better rider

... but maybe... well maybe my favorite season is summer, where it's warm and there's no school so you can spend all day at the barn

2

3

though as I think about it maybe autumn's the better choice with the beautiful trail rides and nice autumn breezes

4

And of course there's winter and the fun of riding in the snow, so that sums it up! My favorite season to ride is all the seasons, because when it comes to horses there's never a bad season to be out riding!
